

JEAN MICHEL MASSING'S RETIREMENT CELEBRATIONS SYMPOSIUM REUNION

CAMBRIDGE 1-2 JULY 2016

SAVE THE DATE

The retirement celebrations in honour of Jean Michel Massing, Professor of History of Art and Fellow of King's College (since 1982), will be held on 1-2 July 2016. On Friday 1 July an international symposium is scheduled in Cambridge with a large number of Jean Michel's former students in academia, museums and the art world, which will be followed by a drinks reception in King's College Chapel and dinner in Hall. After these festivities, which are open to all, a reunion of former King's College Art History students will be held on Saturday 2 July, commencing after breakfast and with lunch in the Hall. The programmes and details of registration for these events will be available closer to the time. Needless to say, Jean Michel would be delighted to see you.

For enquiries relating to the symposium, reception and dinner on 1 July, please contact Francé Davies: +44 (0) 01223 332975 / fc295@cam.ac.uk

For enquiries relating to the King's College Art History Reunion on 2 July, please contact Alice Hardy: +44 (0) 01223 767489 / alice.hardy@kings.cam.ac.uk
